Points That a Girl Should Consider Before She Engages Herself.

Much advice has been written to young men on the choice of a wife. In fact, a good many girls are weary of reading that aged, but ever green, paragraph which recurs so regularly in a certain class of family papers, in which the inquiring youth is bidden to take for a wife the patient creature who wastes an hour or more in the endeavor to wind a snarly skein of silk without a single complaint, who smiles perpetually whether there is anything to smile at or not, and who, after dancing all night, is accustomed to make her appearance at the breakfast-table in an irreproachable toilet, collar and cuffs of snowy whiteness, and every hair in place. Clearly this is expecting too much. Every woman, no matter how patient she may be, experiences a certain relief in pronouncing the word, "Botheration," or some of its synonyms, when more than usually annoyed; if she is sensible "her face has wrinkled up into an unending and insipid smirk; and, although after any social excess she will not omit her usual morning bath and hair-brushing, her chief comfort thereafter will be found in a loose wrapper with a soft muslin kerchief at her throat.

The young woman in search of a husband (if such a being exists outside of the usual leap-year references to her, is not so apt to look for supernatural qualities, and perhaps not so apt to find them. If that impossible young lady is in need of advice on this subject let her scan the following rules:

Observe the manner in which the object of your regard treats his horse. If he is a hard driver out-doors he will be a hard driver indoors; if he lashes his horse past the object at which it "shies" he will scornfully deride your nervous fears; if he allows it to stand and investigate the object of its dread he will show a like consideration of your foolish fancies.

Notice the gait of the candidate for your favor. If his step is heavy, he is pronounced in his own mind, he moves slowly, he is cautious, conservative, slow to anger and apt to let his thoughts dwell on the past rather than the future; if he walks rapidly, he will be sure to "get there," providing he has a clear idea of the object aimed at; if every one turns out for him, while he "keeps straight on" your future days with him will be set to the tune of the line: "Sure I must fight if I would win."

But the dinner-table offers perhaps the best field for discovery. If this hypothetical young man has a marked preference for one viand and an aversion for another, both being equally innocuous to the normal stomach, the indications are that he is a crank; still this is better than that he should pick daintily at every dish and be dissatisfied with all, as by these marks the dyspeptic is known. If he puts all his mind on his plate, with an evident disinclination to take part in the conversation or notice the requirements of those about him, he is possessed of great concentration of purpose, with rudimentary notions of good behavior. If his style of dining reminds you, in ever so slight a degree, of that of the farmer who goes to market at four in the morning and gets nothing to eat until noon, it is a sure sign that there is nothing odd or eccentric about your young man; he belongs to the great brotherhood of mankind. If he begins an anecdote with the soup, allows it to drag its weary length through the various courses and come to a melancholy end with the coffee there is no crime of which he may not be capable. Bachelordom is too good for him. Let him be shunned as you would shun a pestilence.—Toronto Globe.

THE GOLDEN PAGODA.

Graphic Description of One of Burma's Famous Structures.

The Golden Pagoda of Rangoon stands upon a hill in the edge of the town. About 170 feet up the hill has been leveled off into a platform about 800 feet square. In the center of this stands the main structure. It is octagonal at its base, with a diameter of over 450 feet. This runs in, by a succession of terraces or high steps, a hundred or more feet, giving it a bell-shape. From the shoulder of this bell springs another member, circular, also in the bell form, but more steeply, then another. On this sits a tall, thin, four-sided lantern on which rests the "chtee," or open work metallic receptacle for sacred mementoes. This is then surrounded by a half-height from the platform is 370 feet. Around the base are fifty-six small pagodas about 30 feet high. The whole of this vast structure is solid, of well-burned brick, covered over with cement, plaster, and gilded from foundation to pinnacle.

The upper half is freshly gilt, the scaffolding being removed while we were there. At a distance the whole, when the sun is sinking, looks like a mountain of gold. The "chtee" is said to be of solid gold and studded with real gems. It was erected by a late king at a cost of $250,000. To repair an ordinary pagoda does not work "merit" for the one making the repair, but the "merit" is relegated to the original founder. But any repairs to this pagoda and to three others in the kingdom accrue for "merit" to the repairer. Around the platform are a number of smaller pagodas, and many chapels and "kyungs," or temples for worship. These are filled with statues of Buddha in gilded plaster or white alabaster. Many of them are much larger than life.—Carter H. Harrison, in Chicago Mail.

MASCULINE TRAITS.

The Doctor's Dilemma.

The individual, no matter what his profession may be, who imagines that he is going to give satisfaction to the general public in any thing he may undertake, is certainly the victim of a delusion. It is impossible to please every body. The man, be his station in life what it may, who comes up to the expectation of the multitude has not yet been born. The editor, in particular, soon makes this discovery. The clergyman also knows that there are people in his congregation who are never satisfied with what he does or leaves undone. The doctor is another professional man who has a hard row to hoe.

If a doctor dresses well and wears a high hat, people say that he is a medical dupe. If, on the other hand, he wears a low hat and no attention to his toilet, then he is accused of lack of dignity. If he goes into society, attends balls and parties, then the impression is that he is fishing for popularity. If he does not attend church, nothing can be plainer than that he is an infidel or a socialist. If the doctor's wife does not return the calls that other ladies make on her, then she is stuck up, turning up her nose at her betters, etc. If she does return the calls, then she is flushing patients for her husband to shoot at.

If the doctor's horse is fat, that is a sure sign that he has not got much to do. If the animal is emaciated, he is a brute for not taking better care of his horse. If he drives fast, he is trying to create the false impression that he has been called to the bedside of some important patient. If he drives slowly he does not care a cent whether or not his patients die before he gets to them.

If a patient recovers his health, he is indebted to a kind Providence or a strong constitution, or to the care that was taken of him during his illness. In no case is the doctor entitled to any fees for his recovery. If the patient dies, he was undoubtedly murdered by his physician. If the medical man is sociable and talkative, the people say: "We don't want a doctor who tells everything he knows." If he is a silent man, then they say a doctor should encourage his patients to be communicative.

If he talks politics, they say that a doctor should have no politics; and if he does not talk politics, then he is a sneak and a time-server who either has no politics or is afraid to own up what his politics really are. If he does not send in his bill, his object is to prevent the patient from engaging another doctor. If he does send in his bill, he is in a fearful hurry for his money, and so on to the end of the chapter.—Texas Siftings.

GLANDERS AND FARCY.

Why Farmers Should Not Attempt to Doctor Diseased Animals.

The prevalence of glanders in quite a number of places in the West prompts a repetition of the warnings given heretofore in our columns, that it is extremely dangerous for any one to attempt the doctoring of such diseased animals. Cases are frequent where this loathsome disease has been conveyed to the attendants, who, after lingering a while in great suffering, have died horrible deaths, the cause of such persons being not only repulsive, but dangerous as well. There is only one safe course to follow when animals are found to be affected with glanders, and that is to immediately destroy them, and bury them deeply where they are not likely to be disturbed. The stables should be thoroughly disinfected, and every thing that has been used about the animals, brushes, harness, pails, etc., should be immersed in boiling water, and then, after having been dried, placed in a carbolic acid solution. A safer method is to burn all these things, together with all straw, hay or other food about the stables, and even the wood-work about the stables. The fatal and very contagious character of this disease calls for the greatest caution, and it is far better to burn every thing from which there is the least danger, rather than take any risk whatever. It is particularly dangerous for any one who has the skin broken or tender to handle such animals, for, as stated, the disease is incurable, and alike fatal to man and beast.

Farcy is a similar disease, and either frequently terminates in combination with the other. Although generally spread by infection, these diseases may originate from badly ventilated, unhealthy quarters, from bad food, privation, etc., and hence the importance of providing suitable food and housing for the stock. When the disease breaks out in a stable, the affected animals should be immediately separated from the rest. Those that have been exposed should be carefully watched, and on the first appearance of any indications of the disease should at once be placed where they can do no harm, and where they should also be killed immediately. Neither horses nor mules should be placed in a stable where glanders has appeared for at least two months afterwards, the building, meantime, having been thoroughly disinfected.—National Live Stock Journal.

ATTRACTIONS OF IDAHO.

The Resources of a Comparatively Unknown Northwestern Territory.

Men ride in the cars over a vast stretch of lava beds and sage brush desert, and wonder for what such country was created, and why any body lives in it; and they will laugh at you in derision when you tell them that millions of its acres will produce more wheat, rye, or grass to the acre than the richest prairie lands of Illinois; that men are leaving the fertile fields of Iowa by thousands to cultivate the desert, and they who remain two years in this region can never again be induced to make "home" in the East. This Upper Mountain district possesses every variety of climate, and every reasonable product known in other or all other parts of the United States, except the lower portion of wheat known as the Cotton Belt. We can raise grapes as well as Southern California; peaches as well as Delaware; apples as abundantly as Michigan; wheat excelling Minnesota or Dakota, and gold and silver equal to Colorado. Our cattle product is as profitable as that of any State or Territory, and our horses compete with Kentucky. We have a climate, water, grasses and other feed suitable to make the best of butter and cheese. One acre of our land properly seeded to alfalfa, by reason of the superiority of the artificial watering of the land, is equal in food production to two acres of the best blue grass land in the Ohio valley. Under a proper system of irrigation the water is delivered from the canals at the land at a season rental of from fifty cents to one dollar per acre, according to location. By usual terms of purchase of permanent water rights it would, including interest, amount to still less. The land producing from thirty to eighty bushels, and in exceptional cases ninety to one hundred bushels to the acre, this rental would fall under two cents to the bushel of grain raised.

We have more lead and iron than Missouri; more copper than the Lake Superior district, with vast stores of other precious and base metals. In Idaho are found large deposits of sulphur, coal, plumbago, quicksilver, and other valuable minerals. There are also productive salt springs, quarries of the finest marble and building stone, large deposits of merchantable mica, and varieties of semi-precious stones. The forests of Idaho are said to cover 9,000,000 acres. The trees include the varieties of fir, white, red and black spruce, scrub oak, yellow and white pine, mountain mahogany, juniper, tamarack, birch, cotton wood, alders and willow. In Idaho are mountain heights as cold as Maine and valleys as warm as Georgia; only a few miles from the sunny South can be reinvented the spring of life within him by removal to these mountain heights, while the far greater number who are tired out and worn out with the cold and snows of the frozen North can come to the lower altitudes of Snake River valley and find that moderation of heat and cold which is one of the chief blessings of life.

The death rate of Idaho is shown by civil and military statistics to be less than that of any other State or Territory in the Union.—Cassia County Times.

DECAY OF FEUDALISM.

The Death-Blow It Received at the Hands of the sturdy Burgers.

In Italy the burgess with his heritage of experiences from Canine and Thrasymene, from Pharsalia and Philippi, had become a stout infantryman early in the twelfth century, but on the other side of the Alps the French knights rode scornfully through the ranks of the peasants, hardly deigning to lower their lances against the "foot-pad churls" until, in the beginning of the fourteenth century, they received a lesson.

In 1309 some Flemings, who were weavers, tailors and mobsters, and hence naturally cowards and rogues, resisted the payment of exorbitant taxes. Their suzerain, the French King Philip, called the Fair, with his brother of Artois, his Lord High Constable, Pierre Flotte, and an army of nobles, met the rebels in the flat Flemish country near the town of Courtrai. Since the burgesses must needs pay for horses and armor, they put both to their own uses. They had trained their companies behind half city walls, and wonder of wonder! their infantry did not run away. The Flemish bluffs looked into loose sword-belt or shield-strap, were terribly efficacious in dragging the knights from their saddles, and the ditches threw the horsemen into disorder. Philip fought in person, but after seeing Prince and Constable go down before the commoners, the crowned helmet gave way with the rest, and only a judicious use of the royal spurs saved them from being run up with the hundreds of others in the churches, to be a sight for all Flanders and give a name to the bloody battle of the Spurs of Gold. Almost before the bellies of that same Flanders had ceased to call the victory to each other, the spears of the foot-soldiers were again seen glinting through the Scotch mist about the banner of Robert Bruce, at Bannockburn, where among the planted stakes, "the horses that were sticked rushed and reeled right rudely," and where another crowned helmet was nearly captured upon the person of the English Edward II. Thirty-two years afterward (1346), the battle fought near the little village of Cressy, or Crécy, in Flanders, showed the foot soldier as a power which not only surprised all Europe, but changed European tactics.—Scott's Magazine.

THE BASALT BLOCK INDUSTRY.

This industry, which for a number of years has been a great source of revenue to Sonoma, has received somewhat of a back-set the past week by the passage of the bituminous pavement scheme over Mayor Pond's veto by the "Solid Nine" of the San Francisco Supervisors. The ordinance is clearly unconstitutional as it practically creates a monopoly for a particular kind of pavement and places the tax-payers of the metropolis at the mercy of a set of speculators whose greed for gain alone prompted its passage. It is safe to assume that the property owners of San Francisco, not unmindful of their rights, will now appeal to the courts for protection and sue out an injunction restraining the Supervisors from using the bituminous pavement. Should this be done the bituminous pavement scheme will no doubt find out that "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft agley."

WINE-MAKERS will appreciate the following from a San Francisco paper: "The promise of increasing trade with the countries south of us through the Pan-American Congress should be of advantage to California wine dealers and wine makers. The Mexican, Central American and South American republics are largely settled by Spaniards. They are of Latin races and natural wine drinkers. The upper classes use wine freely and are good judges of its quality. With these people it should be a comparatively easy matter to build up a large and profitable trade. That there is hardly the beginning of such a trade is due in part to the limited commercial relations of any kind with the southern countries. It is still more, however, to the unfortunate greed of the sophisticated wine dealers who have been ready to ruin a market for the sake of making an immediate profit on 'stretched' and adulterated wines. Poor wine can not be sold for good wine. Prune juice, logwood extract, cherry juice and a dash of brandy to strengthen it can not be passed off for the pure juice of the grape. It may be sold once or twice to the same man, but he is spoiled for a customer forever after. The four-story brick vineyards in San Francisco of which the wine-growers complain have destroyed many a good market for California."

A DISPATCH from Sacramento says that Attorney General Johnson is preparing to commence suits against people whose names appear in lottery circulars as having received prizes from the Louisiana lottery companies for escheating the money to the State, and also criminal suits for dealing in lottery tickets, the same as is being done in Illinois and Indiana.

CHARLES HOFF and Emanuel Chappel claim to have discovered in the Santa Lucia mountains, south of Monterey, the lost Indian, which has been talked of for years. Specimens of ore assayed $145 in gold and $18 in silver.

Proclamation of Thanksgiving and Prayer.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

To all whom these presents shall come, greeting—In accordance with the time-honored custom that one day in each year be set aside and devoted to prayer and thanksgiving to the Almighty Creator and Ruler of the universe for the manifold blessings He has vouchsafed the people of the United States of America, I hereby appoint Thursday, Nov. 23, 1889, as such day, requesting the people of this State to abstain from their usual vocations and consecrate that day to the worship of God. In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be hereunto affixed, at the city of Sacramento, on this 8th day of November, A. D. 1889.

Attest: W. C. Hendricks, Secretary of State.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

THURSDAY, November 7th.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, all members present, Chairman Allen presiding.

After reading the minutes of the previous meeting upon motion of Supervisor Cady, it was ordered that the name of Mrs. Mesa be placed upon the indigent list for the present month and that she be allowed the sum of $10.

On motion of Supervisor Cady, it also was ordered that the sum of $700 be transferred from the Bond Fund to the General Fund and that the Clerk notify the Auditor and Treasurer of such action.

Another motion by the same gentleman, which was passed, was to the effect that the sum of $1,347.19 be transferred from the County General fund to the Indigent fund, and the Clerk was directed to notify the Auditor and Treasurer of such order.

The Board then adjourned to meet Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

FRIDAY, November 8th.

On motion of Mr. Cady, it was decided that the sum of $300 be paid to the architect whose plans and specifications for the new jail are adopted.

The report of P. L. McGill, Road Overseer of Vallejo road district, was received and placed on file and the accompanying bill, in the sum of $140, was allowed.

The death of Julio Carillo having left the position of janitor of the court-house vacant, Mr. Cady moved that W. H. Hassett be promoted to that position. The motion was carried.

Applications for appointment to the position of assistant janitor of the court-house were received from John Muller, T. W. Smith and W. H. Moore. A vote was taken and resulted in the election of John Muller, with a salary, fixed by subsequent motion, at $50 per month.

Plans and specifications for the new jail building having been submitted by T. J. Furbee and Stone & Aston and duly examined by the members of the Board, no inconsiderable part of the session was occupied by the discussions pertaining thereto. Both plans represent two-story structures of brick and stone, combining in their architectural appearance the lines of beauty and durability. The specifications and estimated cost of construction is $40,000.

A motion by Mr. Clark, adopting the Furbee plans was finally carried by a two-thirds vote, Messrs. Cady and Smith voting in the negative. The meeting soon after adjourned.

MONDAY, November 11th.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment Monday morning.

In the matter of the petition of R. Monahan, Jr., for a private road over the lands of Wm. McP. Hill, Mr. Cady moved that Friday, Dec. 6th, be set as the time for the hearing of the same and that the Clerk be instructed to notify all of the non-consenting land owners. The motion was carried.

It was made the order of the Board, on motion of Mr. Clark, that Theodorico B. Carillo be appointed as matron of the court-house at a salary of $25, provided the City Council of Santa Rosa appoint her to a similar position in the city hall with reasonable compensation.

There appearing to be very little interest taken in the proposed purchase of the Ida Clayton and Great Western toll road, leading from Knight's Valley to Lake County, Mr. Davis moved that the matter be dropped and no further action be taken. So ordered.

TUESDAY, Nov. 12th.

In the matter of the proposed new jail building, the Santa Rosa Planning Mills and Building Company having submitted its bond in the sum of $5,000, as required by a previous order of the Board, and the same appearing to be good and sufficient, Mr. Davis moved that the chairman be authorized and directed to approve the same. It was so ordered.

On motion of Mr. Clark, the plans and specifications of the Enterprise Mills and Building Company were adopted.

In accordance with the provisions of a motion by Mr. Davis, the Clerk was instructed to advertise for proposals for the erection of the proposed jail building, the same to be received up to 11 a. m., on the 17th of January, 1890.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the bill of the Enterprise Planning Mills and Building Company in the sum of $300, the price set by the Board upon the new jail plans and specifications, was ordered paid.

At 12:30 o'clock the Board adjourned until Monday, Dec. 2, at 10:30 a. m.

Its Excellent Qualities

Command to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

From Fremont, Neb.

I have had scrofula until it made my life a burden. I was inexpressibly miserable, sick, weak, sleepless, and unhappy; desiring that the short time which seemed to have been allotted to me on this earth would hasten to an end. I tried doctor's treatment and medicine, and travel, but none of these did me any good, for the scrofula gradually grew worse. One physician, whom I traveled far to see, and to whom I paid $150, gave up the case as hopeless after three weeks treatment, and other as prominent physicians tried hard to cure it, but were equally as unsuccessful. I then gave up all other medicines and took only Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). Four bottles of that medicine cured me, and for the past four years I have had as excellent health and am as free from disease as any body living. Words are inadequate to express my gratitude and favorable opinion of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.).

The above is an extract from a letter written under date of July 18, 1889, by Mr. F. Z. Nelson, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Fremont, Neb.

His Child Got Well.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured my little boy of scrofula, from which he had suffered a long time. I had tried physicians and great quantities of other medicines without avail. A few bottles of S. S. S. did the work. He is now enjoying the best of health and has not had a symptom of the disease for over a year. W. A. CLAYTON, Addle, N. C.

BORN.

HARASZTHY—In Sonoma, November 9, 1889, to the wife of M. J. Haraszthy, a son.

NEW TO-DAY.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use.

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefit I have derived from my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1883 I took a bad cold, which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that a family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 160 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. Y.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenview District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know what from sugar; read what he says:

TOLDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

Is Consumption Curable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lung, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and now on my third bottle, and am able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the best medicine ever made."—Jesse Dillworth, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at E. W. Gardner's store.

The Chamber of Torture

Is the apartment to which the unhappy sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism is confined. If, ere the crisis of pain is reached, that fine preventive, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is used by persons of a rheumatic tendency, much unnecessary suffering is avoided. Nervines, anodynes and sedatives, while having none but a specific effect, are yet very desirable at times. Yet can they produce no lasting effect on rheumatism, because they have no power to eliminate from the blood the rheumatic virus. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does this, and checks at the onset a disease which, if allowed to gain headway, is next to impossible to dislodge or to do more than relieve. Rheumatism, it should be remembered, is a disease with a fatal tendency from its proneness to attack the heart. A resort to the Bitters should, therefore be prompt. Dyspepsia, kidney complaint, malaria and nervousness are relieved by it.

REMEDY FOR PAIN

WHAT IT IS. SIX STANDARD VIRTUES.

ITS EFFICACY.—1. Its effects are prompt. 2. Its relief is sure. 3. Its cures are permanent. 4. It cures: no return of pain. 5. It cures in all cases used according to directions.

1st. It is in one word a cure; it is not merely a relief and in no sense a cure-all; it is the product of scientific research.

2nd. It strengthens while it soothes and subdues, heals and cures; it literally conquers pain.

3rd. Its effects are curative and permanent to the whole group of muscular miseries and nervous agonies.

4th. It does not merely irritate the outer surface, face, nor does it merely soften or relax a constricted muscle. To its specific action a superior curative virtue is superadded.

5th. It penetrates deeply but gently; searches, inly and surely, seeking the painful spot in effort to conquer.

6th. Each constituent of the formula has its own recognized intrinsic virtue to serve most surely the cure of pain.

It is a rumor which has been circulated in this community to the effect that Mr. Cleve had acquired an interest in the merchandising business conducted by the late Mr. No one has any information except the heirs at law. *

Mr. S. H. Shaw has placed on our table this week a cluster of late fall apples, grown in his orchard near this place, which bears anything in the way of apples that we have ever seen or read about. The cluster contains fourteen apples averaging nine inches in circumference. When we state that the stem on which the cluster is formed is less than seven inches in length an idea may be formed of the compactness of the growth. *

Go to the Sonoma House for first class accommodations. M. A. Flynn, proprietor. *

Arrested and Discharged.

John Miller, for a number of years engaged in farming on leased land at Embarcadero, was arrested at Bodega Corners, whither he had taken flight, by Deputy Constable Griffith on Friday of last week. The charge upon which the arrest was made was that of defrauding his creditors. The arrest was made upon the complaint of Wm. Green, Sr. About a month ago Miller left his ranch in a mysterious manner and his whereabouts were unknown to his creditors until last week. Officer Griffith arrived in town with his prisoner on Saturday night. On Wednesday Miller had his examination before Justice Cheney, who, after hearing the merits of the case pro and con, discharged the prisoner, the testimony being insufficient to hold him on a criminal charge. The Judge, however, rendered judgment in favor of Green in the sum of $226.03 and $22.05 costs of suit.

Block Quarries Shut Down.

The passage of the bituminous ordinance by the San Francisco Supervisors has already caused the suspension of three of the four block quarries at this place, to-wit: Manuel's, Stacy's and Trudgen's. These quarries gave steady employment the year round to about 150 men, whose wages varied from $2 to $5.50 per day. The Schocken quarry, employing forty blockmakers, still continues to turn out blocks to supply a large contract made previous to the attempt to "blow" on basalt blocks. H. C. Manuel, however, informs us that he will start up again next week and will open up a new quarry on the John T. Jones place a short distance northeast of town. It is thought the suspension of the other quarries is also only temporary and that all will be in full blast again in a very short time.

Land to be Reclaimed.

W. B. Pless, who has the contract for reclaiming 29,000 acres of swamp and overflowed land lying alongside and to the eastward of the Sonoma Valley Railroad track below McGill's Station, is in town making arrangements to commence operations. The land is the property of Senator John P. Jones and when reclaimed will be planted in wheat and used for grazing purposes.

A Gracious Act.

Mr. A. Harrison of the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen, informs us that he contemplated giving a dance in his hall on Thanksgiving Eve, but hearing that the Sonoma Native Sons were to give a grand ball in Union Hall on the same evening he has decided to postpone his party in order that the people up his way may be enabled to attend the ball at this place. This is a most graceful act on the part of Mr. Harrison and one that we assure him is appreciated by the Native Sons of Sonoma.

Death of a Valuable Sonoma Valley Horse.

Iron Duke, the fine iron grey draught stallion, who took the first premium at the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Fairs, died on Johannesburg Farm one day this week. The animal, which was a magnificent one, was the property of Ld. Steiger of Agua Caliente.

Fireman's Ball.

By a unanimous vote of the members of Sonoma Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 it was decided last Wednesday evening to give a grand Fireman's ball on New Year's Eve. A committee composed of C. W. Englebert, J. E. Poppe and James Martin were chosen to make the necessary arrangements.

Only a Rumor.

There is a rumor going the rounds that a joint stock company is being formed to purchase the "El Verano Brick Block" for the purpose of moving it into the suburbs of Sonoma and converting it a home for superannuated speculators, especially those which have become financially distressed by unfortunate purchases in "Boombtown lots."

The Lady Godiva must have had exceptionally long hair since it completely concealed her lovely person. Since Ayer's Hair Vigor came into use such examples are not so rare as formerly. It not only promotes the growth of hair, but gives it a rich, silken texture.

The Agua Caliente Springs Hotel, having been enlarged and refurbished, is again running under the old management and the proprietor will be pleased to see and entertain all his old friends and as many new ones as may favor him with a call. *

A. Schweickhardt of the Union Bakery will supply his old patrons and the public generally with fresh bread daily commencing to-day. Parties desiring to be served will please leave orders at Hintz's tailor establishment next door to the new bakery building which is in course of construction. *

The Occidental Hotel, under the management of Mr. R. D. Moore and his estimable wife, is growing in popularity every day. *

CUTTING AFFAIR.

Wm. Green, Jr., Stabbed by A. Zimmerman, a Blockmaker.
On Wednesday night last about 9:30 o'clock Wm. Green, Jr., a lumber dealer and A. Zimmerman, a blockmaker, became involved in an angry dispute in the Railroad saloon, which finally resulted in blows. Zimmerman and Green then left the saloon and the row was renewed on the sidewalk in front of Schocken's store, which adjoins the saloon. Green was getting the best of Zimmerman when the latter drew a pocket knife and stabbed the former in two places—behind the left ear and in the back. Zimmerman then walked away while Green, who was covered with blood, was assisted to his home and a physician sent for. Upon examination it was found that the knife had not penetrated to any considerable depth and the injured man's wounds although painful are not considered dangerous. The knife blade with which the cutting was done is about two inches long. Zimmerman claims that he acted in self-defense. He has a beautiful pair of black eyes as a souvenir of the encounter and is otherwise bruised about the head.

The District School.

The entertainment given by the ladies of the M. E. Church at Union Hall last Tuesday evening was a complete success both financially and socially. At 8 p. m. every available seat in the house was taken. The old "Deestriest Schule" was rendered in such a manner as to reflect much credit upon both teacher and scholars.

The following programme was rendered: piano solo, Mrs. A. F. Pauli; District School, morning session; recitation, Miss L. Freese; afternoon session, District school, including a visit from the Board of Directors and a "kick" from Squire Kicker, also an essay on local topics, by Mahitable Johnson; vocal solo, "Embarassment," Mrs. J. P. Weems. After the completion of the programme the audience adjourned to the refreshment tables to which ample justice was rendered. We noticed a nosogay, presented to the teacher by an affectionate pupil, consisting of a cabbage head weighing 25 pounds. Mrs. J. E. Bailey, whose part was that of "School Ma'am" deserves much credit for the excellent manner in which she had her scholars trained.

The essay by Miss Mahitable Johnson (Miss Maggie McMahon), on "Local Topics," was decidedly interesting and very original, in fact the School Ma'am said on introducing her, "that Mahitable writ it all herself." The writer criticizes right and left, offers suggestions and finally closes by saying that the poppy (Poppe) is the prettiest flower in Sonoma. If any one thinks to the contrary they are invited to call and see the handsome one in full bloom on the east side of the Plaza.

During the course of the evening's entertainment the dreary Boombtown across the creek was unmercifully gayed, much to the amusement of those present.

Glen Ellen Gossip.

Mrs. J. A. Poppe of Sonoma was up last week visiting relatives.

Father Sullivan was up last Friday visiting members of his congregation.

The leaves are beginning to fall, the roses are in bloom and feed is growing nicely.

Quail are plentiful and in fact game of all kinds is found in large numbers in this vicinity.

Thanksgiving day is near at hand. Turkeys are plentiful and of course the day will be justly celebrated.

We are yet without a barber or a shoe-maker, either. One or both would do a land office business here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Crofoot left for San Francisco last Friday and are combining business with pleasure.

Chas. Kohler came up from San Francisco last Thursday to visit his extensive vineyards and cellars in this place.

Several flocks of wild geese passed over town last week, which reminds us of the days of yore. What say you jailor at Santa Rosa?

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Leonard, mother of Mrs. M. E. Overton, who is over 90 years of age, was taken seriously ill last week owing to a fall she received some time ago.

Ah Pang, an Americanized celestial who has been for Jas. McEwen for the last 34 years, has gathered his harvest and gone to China to spend the money as well as the remainder of his days.

We learn that A. L. Guerne of this place came out victorious in a land suit at Eureka, Humboldt county. The land was illegally claimed by other parties.

OLD TIMER.

Personal and Social.

John M. Hendley of Glen Ellen was in town yesterday.

Otto Wagner visited San Francisco on business Monday.

Mrs. S. H. Bailey of Santa Rosa is stopping at the Occidental.

Wm. Green, Jr., visited Santa Rosa on business Tuesday.

R. A. Poppe made a flying trip to the metropolis Tuesday.

Senator Jno. S. Enos returned from San Francisco Tuesday evening.

Robert, the only son of Hon. Robt. Howe of Eden Dale, is lying quite ill.

L. Litzius was attending to business in the city during the fore part of the week.

Mrs. F. D. Spaulding visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Church last Saturday.

Henry Winkle, who has been seriously indisposed for the past week, we are pleased to state is improving.

Mr. J. M. Kirkpatrick of Olema, Marin county, is spending a few days in Sonoma visiting his son C. B. Kirkpatrick, an attaché of this office.

Ex-Congressman T. L. Thompson, Judge J. A. Barham and Hon. J. W. Ragsdale of Santa Rosa were registered at the Union Hotel last Saturday.

Mr. Beaurie Spencer's smiling face will be seen no more in Sonoma, as he has departed for San Francisco, where he will become a disciple of Blackstone.

Mr. Paul Nauman and family of Alameda visited his sister, Mrs. Anna Lewis of this city, on Sunday last, returning home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Muser returned to their home in San Francisco Monday after several day's visit to relatives near Sonoma. Mr. Muser, who is a piscatorial artist, succeeded in catching three salmon.

Sonoma Parlor, No. 111, N. S. G. W., will give a banquet at the Sonoma House next Monday evening. Grand Trustees Frank L. Coombs of Napa together with a large delegation of Native Sons from Glen Ellen and Napa Parlor will be present.

A surprise party was given to Miss Bella A. Hearn at the home of her parents at Embarcadero, on Wednesday evening of last week. Dowdall, Jos. Hines.

Boils, carbuncles and other skin eruptions indicate that the system is endeavoring to reject poisonous acids and that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is imperatively needed. It is the most reliable of all blood medicines. Ask your druggist for it, and take no other.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by E. Wegner, Druggist.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You say yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at E. Wegner's drug store.

Downfall of the "Perfume Craze."

A few months ago, perhaps last fall, there was a perfect "perfume craze." It swept through the fashionable and unfashionable sets of New York society. Women especially, and reached some few other cities. The masculine element, everywhere known as "the dudes," took it up also. Not druggists only, but dry goods houses, and every store where women most do congregate, in New York city, were called on hourly by crowds of women, who went from house to house "sampling" perfume, till it became necessary to keep duplicate stock on hand and an experienced set of clerks who could discriminate between bona fide customers, and those who took this method of replenishing their monochlor case and toilet stand.

The craze took such proportions that the result disgusted the originators of it, and it was suddenly dropped by the elite, until now perfumers tell us there is far less demand than usual for perfumery, and good taste has asserted its sway, delicate, refined and natural odors being mostly in demand.—Cor. Cleveland Leader.

Story of the Wild West and Fire-Side Chats.

BY HON. W. F. COVEY, (BUFFALO BILL.)

Buffalo Bill is the Napoleon of American Scouts and Indian Fighters. He is one of the greatest and one of the most versatile characters that this or any other country has ever produced. He has won brilliant success and renown in all his undertakings. He is not only the greatest of American frontiersmen, but he is also an educated man. He is familiar with the entire history of our country, and has made a special study of the lives and grand achievements of the great pioneers, whose deeds of daring have won the applause and admiration of the whole world. He is better qualified than any other man to write the great standard history of American Pioneer Life, for he helped to make that history, and his own adventures constitute the most brilliant and thrilling portion of it. His peculiar fitness for the work he has so successfully accomplished was justly recognized by the Prince of Wales, Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone, Hon. John Bright, and other distinguished Englishmen, when they earnestly requested him to write the "Story of the Wild West." In this request they were joined by nearly every celebrated General in the American Army, who, knowing Buffalo Bill intimately, knew that he was the man to write this Grand History. It is a book every American can feel proud of. He not only tells of his own marvelous achievements, but also those of his comrades and other great frontiersmen, including the thrilling story of the Custer Massacre, General Crooks campaign and a thousand of other exciting incidents, and lastly, a description of his wonderful career and success in exhibiting his "Wild West Show" among the Crown Heads of all Europe. Buffalo Bill's pen is as vigorous as his rifle was unerring, and his book will remain forever the great standard history of pioneer life in America and should receive a glad welcome in the home of every true and patriotic American. This great historical work contains over seven hundred pages and nearly three hundred spirited engravings. The well-known publishers, The History Co., 723 Market St., San Francisco, are the authorized General Agents. Agents and parties who desire to sell this book can secure an agency and liberal terms by addressing the History Company.
